

Joy James

March 2 - 3

John B. and John T. McCoy Presidential
Professor of Humanities & College
Professor in Political Science,
Williams College.

Prof. James's work focuses on political and feminist theory, critical race theory, and incarceration. James works with various human rights organizations and is the coordinator of The Harriet Tubman Literary Circle. James holds a Ph.D. in Political Philosophy and a post-doctorate degree in religious ethics.

