

Vlatka HORVAT

APRIL 9TH & 10TH, 2008

Vlatka Horvat is a Croatian-born, New York-based artist. Her works take several different media forms ranging from performative photography and video to works on paper and projects with text. She often focuses on an encounter between a person and a particular system, state, or physical space, encouraging a constant replaying, restaging and re-enacting of the particular action. The subsequent events, images, and texts become indexes for wider concerns relating to the individual and her place in society and culture.
